Half Sick Half Well

Many persons have their good day and their bad day. Others are about half sick all the time. They have headache, backache, and are restless and nervous. Food does not taste good, and the digestion is poor; the skin is dry and scaly and disfigured with pimples or eruptions; sleep brings no rest and work is a burden.

What is the cause of all this? Impure blood. And the remedy? It clears out the channels through which poisons are carried from the body. When all impurities are removed from the blood nature takes right hold and completes the cure.

If there is constipation, take Ayer's Pills. They awaken the drowsy action of the liver; they cure biliousness.

DARING ROBBERY.

A Woman Compelled to Release a Thief at the Point of a Revolver.

A daring robbery was perpetrated at the grocery store of D. Grossman, at ten o'clock this morning. Mr. Grossman's place of business is at the corner of Lloyd and White streets.

The thieves were Frank Gibson, about 10 years old, of North White street, and an accomplice, whose name could not be learned. They entered the store together. The accomplice went to the kitchen, where Mrs. Grossman was engaged in housework. He engaged her in conversation while Gibson robbed the till. He succeeded in opening the drawer and stole the contents, $5 or more. The rattling of the coin attracted the attention of Mrs. Grossman, who rushed into the store, grabbed Gibson by the arm, and demanded the money. In the excitement Mrs. Gibson pulled a revolver from his hip pocket and threatened to shoot the woman if she did not release him. In the excitement Mrs. Grossman became bewildered and both thieves made their escape. Gibson's father was notified of the theft and he paid the amount taken by his son.

WM. PENN.

A large congregation gathered at the M. E. church last night to pay tribute to the former pastor, Rev. Ephraim Potts, who is now in charge of the M. E. church at Frickville. The choir had arranged a special program of music for the occasion and each part was rendered admirably. Mr. Potts was assigned to the pulpit to preach the sermon and took for his text: "I am Alpha and Omega." He said in part: "These words, though Greek, are easily understood and remembered. Christ is the beginning and end of all things. This was also the teaching of Paul. He is the beginning and end of the divine revelation. In this lies the solution of many difficult problems. He is the Alpha and Omega of doctrine. Our different creeds find in Him their fulfillment. He is the beginning and the end of the atonement for sins, therefore we glory in the cross. This text explains the facts of providence. He is the beginning and end in the future world." Rev. Potts made a touching reference to the life work in this village of ex-Superintendent W. H. Lewis. He concluded his remarks by referring to those who had passed away and exhorted all to meet them, "and now let us be in fellowship with each other around the table of the Lord."

THE BEEF FINDINGS.

ministry general of subsistence a colossal error for which there is no palliation.

The court finds that there was neglect in Cuba and to a less degree in Porto Rico in delivering the refrigerated beef.

"The court," says the report, "does not wish to state the cause more strongly than to say that the finding appears to be warranted that too much time was consumed in distributing this perishable article. The fault, if any there was, rested with the brigade and higher commanding officers and their commissaries and quartermasters, but the testimony is not so definite or specific as to warrant the finding by the court of any particular officers."

The opinion is expressed that it would have been impracticable to land leaf cattle on the hoof in Cuba, the remark of the court on this point being as follows:

"The commanding general of the expedition characterized as 'absurd' such a proposition, and many of his commanding officers, whose opinion is being given in the testimony, coincided with him in the practicability or inexpediency of such a project. The court concurs in the opinion of these men, whose experience in active military service dated from 1861."

A chapter of the report is devoted to the consideration of the cause of the sickness in the army in the Santiago campaign, but "the court finds it impossible to conclude that either the canned fresh beef or refrigerated beef appeared to any appreciable extent as causes of intestinal disease."

General Miles, who was asked last night whether he had any comment to make upon the beef report, replied that he had read it. "But I have nothing to say," he added, "either about the report, the method of taking testimony or the conclusions reached."

TERSELY TOLD.

It is a pleasure to note that William H. Lewis, until recently superintendent of the Wm. Penn colliery, will soon be one of us. He has rented the Grant mansion on West Oak street, and after the house has been prepared for their reception will move his family there. Mr. Lewis has retired from active business pursuits for the present, and will enjoy a well earned rest.

Next week—on the 20th inst.—W. J. Morgan will take up his residence in Philadelphia, having accepted an important and lucrative position at the Reading Terminal in that city. He has for several years ably represented the Republican in this town, and the proprietors of that paper will find it difficult to fill his position with the same degree of ability and popularity. Mr. Morgan has always taken an active interest in every movement for the benefit of the town, and has been prominent in social, business and political circles. When youth he served three years as judge in the legislature and subsequently held an important position under the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. at Lost Creek, and for several years was in the mercantile business here. At present he is secretary of the old Fellows and the Masonic lodges. The departure of himself and his estimable wife will be regretted by a large number of friends and acquaintances. The HERALD joins them in wishing him success in his new field of labor.

Within a few days the Bell Telephone Company will establish an exchange in this town, and we are entitled to and have badly needed for some time. It is evident that the company proposes an energetic campaign in extending its business, as they have appointed ex-Councilman R. D. Reese as solicitor, whose territory embraces Schuylkill county. The managers have certainly made a popular appointment, and we are confident that the wisdom of the selection will develop itself and result in extending the company's business in channels heretofore untouched. Mr. Reese has a wide acquaintance, is an affable gentleman, and is fully equipped for the duties of his new position. We congratulate both Mr. Reese and the company.

The Bell Telephone people should use the same good judgment in selecting a location for and manager of their exchange here, that they have used in the choice of a solicitor. So important a matter, but it is not so important as the selection of a person to manage the exchange. There is quite a rivalry for this position, and the selection should be made with great care. The telephone subscribers pay dearly for the use of the phones, and they should be given good service.

Rumor has it that J. J. Franey, one of Shenandoah's enterprising citizens, and whom some of our exchanges very appropriately style the Wanamaker of Shenandoah, contemplates opening a large department store in his mammoth store room at the corner of Lloyd and Main streets. The property is well adapted for the purpose, and Mr. Franey has the necessary push and capital to make it a paying investment.
